Comments:

Licensure reciprocity is not guaranteed. To apply for a license in AL, FL, SC, KY, MD, MS, SC, TN, TX, and VA you will need to contact the licensing board in that state for the process and requirements. A license verification from the North Carolina Licensing Board is required. To receive a verification, you will need to fax, mail, or email

(licensing@nclbgc.org) a request that includes the name on the license, the license number, the state you are needing a verification for, and attach any forms required by that state. Once received it can take about 2 weeks to process before the verification is sent out. The North Carolina Licensing Board does not have full reciprocity with any state. NC does not have examination waiver agreements with Alabama. You will need to complete the new application in its entirety and the board you are licensed with in AL must complete the Examination Waiver form included in the application packet. The application and waiver must be submitted together.

Individual state board information provided under Code Enforcement category.
